

THE 2ND ANNUAL TRISTATE REGIONAL SIMULATION SYMPOSIUM

Friday, September 21, 2018 ■ 8 am - 5 pm
Mount Sinai West, 1000 Tenth Avenue, New York, NY ■ Main Building 2nd Floor Conference Room B

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The 2018 Tristate Regional Simulation Symposium is an all-day gathering of the community of simulation leaders, researchers, scholars, educators, learners, and enthusiasts locally and visiting international colleagues in the tristate region. This year's celebratory theme is Evolution of Healthcare Simulation with content categories that include:

1. Innovative simulation programs
2. Simulation spotlight highlighting trailblazing features of simulation centers and;
3. Vision for the future of ever more immersive simulation modalities and technology - virtual reality (VR), augmented reality (AR), 3D printing, computer based simulation, gaming, mobile-based simulation, and more.

Podium presentation, demonstrations, breakout sessions, and simwars will be used for participatory engagement and immersive experiences. The symposium coincides with the Society for Simulation in Healthcare's (SSH) 2nd annual world-wide celebration of simulation week. The sweetest celebration is bringing us together, enjoying the company of our peers, simulation industries, friends, and special networking opportunities.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the activity, participants will be able to:

1. Integrate the right simulation-based education modalities in advancing patient safety and knowledgeable care.
2. Use interprofessional simulation-based education in improving systems performance and outcomes.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the applications of simulation in healthcare.
