

Fifth Annual Tristate Regional Simulation Symposium

Real-World Applications: Making Change Happen

Program Overview

We are excited to host a dynamic plenary session looking to inspire and disrupt the previous conceptions of simulation in healthcare. We will explore real-world applications by innovators in the field that made change happen. Throughout the conference we will learn how simulation is identifying and solving real-world problems in our area and how to incorporate and transform research evidence, and simulation tools into our practice.

Program Highlights

- Flexible schedule – access to live and pre-recorded sessions
- Virtual workshop-style breakout rooms
- Rich Networking Opportunities
- Virtual Exhibit Hall

Program Objectives

- Use research evidence to identify problems and mitigate patient safety issues.
- Transform research data and adapt simulation tools into your particular practice.
- Become a disruptive innovator and improve team and patient-oriented outcomes.

Targeted Audience

Simulation in Healthcare Leaders, Healthcare Administrators, Policy Decision Makers and Stakeholders, Researchers, Scholars, Educators, Learners, Simulation Enthusiasts, and Friends
